TORONTO WON CHAMPIONSHIP IN ANNUAL ASSAULT-AT-ARMES AT KINGSTON LAST SATURDAY

Above will be the Outcome if Injury onto Gage of Varsity's Amateur Standing Should Prove Him Eligible to Compete

QUEENS AND MCGILL TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

Varsity Won with Five Points and McGill and Queens each Scored Four

The Fourth Intercollegiate Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing championship in which McGill has taken part, came to a very exciting close on Saturday night, leaving Varsity on top with a score of five wins, and McGill and Queens tied for second place, with four wins each. However, it is not definitely certain that Varsity will take the championship, McGill and Queens having protested against the championship being awarded to them until an inquiry has been held into the amateur standing of Gage, Toronto's heavyweight. In the event of Gage being ineligible, the championship will be a three-cornered tie, as neither Queen's nor McGill had an entry in that class. This matter has been referred to the Intercollegiate Union, and as a considerable amount of correspondence will have to pass before a decision can be reached, it is improbable that this rather difficult, and touchy point will be settled for at least a week. As far as could be judged from Varsity's attitude on Saturday night, they agreed that if there were any doubt on the matter, it should be investigated. On both nights, the work done by all teams showed very marked improvement on any previous competitions, and the spirit throughout was of the best sporting type—may the best man win. After the preliminaries on Friday night, the three teams had the following number of men left in: McGill, 9; Queens, 8; Varsity, 8. In the preliminaries, McGill lost both their fencers, the 145 lbs wrestling and the 158 lbs boxing. In the former, Ford showed gameness to the end, whilst in the latter, Spencer lost by a very narrow margin. SUMMARY OF FINALS. 115lbs wrestling. Ewart (McGill) best Ross (Varsity). 125 lbs boxing. Forbes (McGill), beat Irwin (Queens). 125 lbs wrestling. Garvock (Queens) beat Audette (McGill). 135 lbs boxing. CAPTAIN AMUNDSE TO LECTURE TO-NIGHT IN THE WINDSOR HALL

Famous Explorer will Speak Under Royal Patronage

Probably the greatest men who has come to Montreal to lecture for many months will be heard tonight at the Windsor Hall. This is, of course, Capt. Roald Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole. That tonight's lecture will be worth hearing is, of course, too obvious almost to be mentioned. The enormous enthusiasm with which he was welcomed in London and New York when he delivered his lectures there amply testifies to the fact that Capt. Amundsen's ability as a lecturer is second only to his wonderful ability as an arctic explorer.

But not only will Capt. Amundsen's lecture be interesting on account of the wonderful tale which he has to tell of the terrors of the Antarctic barrier, the bitter cold, the yawning crevasses and the perilous mountains all of which he successfully overcame, but also for another even deeper reason. Capt. Amundsen was for years a friend of the late Capt. Scott, whose tragic death has filled the whole world with sorrow. Not only were they close friends, but also the chief rivals for the honour of discovering the pole. There is certainly no other man in this world who understands as does Capt. Amundsen the difficulties that confronted Captain Scott, and who realizes the terrible force of the Antarctic blizzard that finally overcame the heroic little band of English explorers. And so tonight's lecture will be doubly interesting since Capt. Amundsen is going to talk about Scott.

Besides discovering the south pole, Capt. Amundsen has also achieved many other remarkable explorations in polar regions. He was the first successful navigator of the North West passage and the discoverer of the North Magnetic Pole. He is now planning to add a visit to the North Pole to the list of his achievements.

His lecture this evening will be illustrated with many beautiful colored slides, and also with motion pictures taken while he was in the Polar regions. The latter is a distinctly new departure and should help greatly in enabling the audience to

UNIQUE FEATURES PROMISED FOR THE COOK CELEBRATION

No Street Parade this Year

Everything is now in readiness for the Cook celebration which is to take place at the Union on Wednesday night. The Committee has been working very hard for the past several weeks, and everything points toward the fact that this year's King Cook Celebration will be the most successful ever held by the students of the second year Medicine.

Unlike other years, there is to be no street parade. This feature is to be omitted because of the extreme uncertainty of the weather at this time of the year; the expense, therefore, that the parade would have involved, will be devoted to the greater success of the event at the Union; for example, instead of a lunch, the committee has promised for this year a full course dinner. An excellent programme has been arranged and the speeches will by the various subjects of the "King" promise to be even wittier and more original than they have been in former years.

Those in charge of the affair wish to keep the order of the ceremony a secret until Wednesday night, but from what has been rumored around the medical building, it is understood that this year's ceremony will be entirely different from anything ever conceived by the students.

Invitations have been sent to all the members of the first year medicine, but owing to some changes in addresses, several of the invitations were not received. The members of the second year, therefore, wish, through the columns of the Daily, to extend a hearty invitation to each member of the first year and hope to see as many as possible there on Wednesday.

Another feature of the programme will be that the main event of the evening, the crowning of the King, will take place in the large hall of the Union, and the dinner in the dining room on the main floor. Tickets will be presented at the entrance of the large hall, and each student will be presented with a programme. This programme will admit the bearer to the dining room after the ceremony.

INCOMES COMPARED OF UNIVERSITIES ON AMERICAN CONTINENT

American Colleges are Largely State Aided

Some very interesting facts about University incomes have recently come to light. The Universities over the line have much greater incomes, generally speaking, than those here. For example, the University of Illinois had an income during 1911-12 of over $2,360,000; and the University of Minnesota $2,680,000; the University of Wisconsin $2,120,000. Cornell University, Ithaca, reported total receipts of over three million dollars with a net income available for current expenses of about a million and a half. Most of the American Universities are State-aided, and a number of them receive Government aid as well. Several State-aided institutions are in the million-dollar class the principle ones being the University of Michigan; income $1,343,000 the Ohio State University, with $1,011,000; and the University of California, with $1,711,000. The latter had an additional half million from private benefactions. The State of Iowa supports several institutions of college and

SENIOR HOCKEY TEAM IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT

Train Bringing McGill Athletes Back to Montreal Ran off the Track but all the Team Escaped Unhurt

The McGill senior hockey team were delayed on their return trip to Montreal by a derailment of their train last night, half a mile from Stanbridge. Nobody was injured, but the passengers received a severe shock.

A message was received by the "Daily" late last night from Manager Roberts, conveying the information that the team were alright, but would be several hours late in arriving in Montreal.

The game in Boston, as anticipated was won by the B.A.A.A. It was not a particularly fast one and the Bostonians had little difficulty in winning out.

University rank with a combined income of over two million dollars.

When the State's contribution is large, the Government only supplies a small amount, and vice versa. Illinois meets the Government's $80,000 with nearly two million dollars from the State Treasury, and most States give to higher education a greater sum than they receive from the United States Government. On the other hand, a few States rely to a considerable extent upon the Government bounty.

In some of the larger State-aided Universities, tuition fees from students have become an important factor in the annual income. Thus the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, though aided somewhat by State and National Government, depends for the bulk of its income upon the student's fees and upon private funds. Cornell University received nearly half a million from each of three sources, namely, students' fees, productive funds, and State appropriations.

Then on comparing this state of affairs with the state in Canada, we find the following in the report of President R. A. Falconer:—

"Notwithstanding the generosity of the Government to the University of Toronto, the Board is endeavouring to do more work with a smaller income than any other institution on the Continent. — While the University of Toronto is the largest on the continent, it receives less from the Province than any of those that compare with it in size receive from their States, and the cost per student is lowest in Toronto."

For the year 1911, Varsity's income was about $840,000. In the same period, the expenses were $770,000, and the number of students 4,044. Queen's income for the year was $106,800; and the number of students 1,612.

During the same period McGill's revenue was $770,000 and the expenditures $830,000, the number of students 2,294. That was the year of the canvass which is expected to yield an additional income of about $100,000 per year.

It may be interesting to note that while Toronto gets $750,000 from the Ontario authorities, McGill gets only $25,000 from the Province of Quebec. Thus Toronto with not double the number of students, gets 250 times the grant that McGill gets. Also in 1911, "Varsity got $240,000 from fees alone."

ORCHESTRA CONCERT TAKES PLACE SOON

The Trip to St. Anne's will be Followed by a City Concert

A most successful practice of the Undergrad. Orchestra was held yesterday morning in the Union.

That music that is to be played at the Macdonald College on March 8th, and subsequently at a concert to be given in the city, was thoroughly rehearsed. The membership of the Orchestra has been somewhat increased. It is expected that there will be 29 musicians in the complete orchestra when it gives its next two concerts. There will be three more first violins. Mr. Lennie, who is now the leader of the Orchestra, has secured a capable substitute to play double-bass in his stead.

It is understood that the program of music will be somewhat as follows:

King Cotton - - - - - Sousa
Morning, Noon and Night
in Vienna - - - - - Suppe
Light Cavalry - - - - - Suppe
Prince of Pilsen
Characteristic Marches

Besides the contributions of the Orchestra proper, there will be two vocal solos, a string quartette, and a brass quartette. Mr. Williamson will in all probability play a trombone solo.

The concert in the City will take place about the second week in the month of March. Where it will be held, has not yet been determined. Further announcements will appear later. The next practice will be held in Strathcona Hall on Thursday evening. All members are expected to be present.

THE RIGHT PRINCESS

"The Right Princess", a three-act play by Clara Louise Burnham, under the management of John Cort, will be seen at the Princess for five days, commencing Tuesday, March 4. The message of the play is that "Good is the Only Power", and "Tear is the avenue through which Harm Comes". The science of mental suggestion is taught by it and it is through mental healing that the "Right Princess" redeems the central character of the play, whose development of mind has been arrested by a sudden fall in his boyhood. "The Right Princess" by means of mental suggestion and a zealous faith in her Maker, succeeds in bringing the man-boy back to himself.

The play contains a delightfully interesting love story with a vein of humor throughout. In it is the conventional hateful villain, who is full of intrigues and seeks to put out of the way his weak-minded cousin to obtain his inheritance; the jealous woman, the comedian and, above all, the sweethearts, who win against big odds.

Miss Maude Fealy, as the "Right Princess", is said to fill the role in a manner which wins her the proper regard and brings to the part the atmosphere of sincerity. James Durkin portrays the part of the young nobleman with the weak mind whose reason is restored. Others in the cast are Howard Cridland, Joseph Dailey, Henry Douglas, Marcia Harris, Teresa Dale, Julia Hanchett and Ethel Lodge.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT A.A. EXECUTIVE AT STRATHCONA HALL

Man will be Nominated for President

There will be an important meeting of the Athletic Association Executive this afternoon at five o'clock in the Strathcona Hall, and it is hoped that every member of the above body will be present. At this meeting a man will be nominated for President of the Association, and as this man will, if elected, sit on the Council the matter is important.

A man may also be nominated by the students if his nomination papers are signed by twenty-five men.

At this meeting also the M's for the past year will be granted and the presidents of the different Clubs are requested to have their lists ready.

CADETS AND MCGILL WILL CLASH TO-DAY FOR HOCKEY HONORS

R.M.C. have Three Goal Lead in Series

R. M. C. and McGill Intermediates come together this afternoon at the Arena in the return fixture of the home-and-home series for the Inter-collegiate title. The Cadets having taken the first game have a lead of three goals and consequently the McGill team will be up against a stiff proposition in attempting to put the soldiers out of the running. However, as it was only in the last few minutes of play that the red-coats obtained their margin in the game at Kingston, it looks as if the Intermediates could come through on this occasion as the team is going better now than at any time this season. Kendall who, it was expected, would be able to get into the game, is still bothered with his injured foot, and, as a consequence, will not be found in his accustomed place this afternoon. De Muth, the husky defence man who tore off some pretty rushes in the first encounter with the disciples of Sam Hughes, is slated for the point position and should look after the military speed marvels in the most approved style. Both teams will take the ice with their line-ups unchanged from those which opposed each other in the initial fracas and the dopesters are figuring on a close contest as a result.

The Cadets arrived in town on the Saturday in order to be in the pink for the contest and will probably have the edge on the McGill seven in this respect. Ryley and Sutherland, the two centre-ice players of the local aggregation having played with the seniors in Boston on Saturday night. However, with the advantage of playing on a familiar surface, and the rooting of the loyal railbirds McGill looks to have an even chance of overcoming the three-goal lead obtained by the wearers of the pill-box last Wednesday. As a win to-day would put the Red and White in line for the honors, the game is causing no little interest here and indications point to one of the largest crowds in the history of Intermediate hockey at McGill. It was announced last night that there would be no reserved seats sold, everybody being admitted at a quarter a throw. The game starts at five sharp. The teams will line-up as follows:

Patterson	point

THE AMERICAN CLUB DINED ON SATURDAY IN THE UNION GRILL

Informal Dinner Well Attended

The Dinner of the American Club, held Saturday, on the anniversary of Washington's birthday, was a complete success in every way. The members met in the Grill Room of the Union, and ordered their fare a la carte, in accordance with their tastes and the length of their purses. A most enjoyable time was spent by everybody.

This form of meeting seems well calculated to fill the place of the more elaborate dinners and functions, more especially in the case of the smaller clubs and societies, where the former are a considerable drain on the funds.

HUNTINGDON DEFEATS FAST SENIOR TEAM IN OVERTIME PLAY

Final Score after sanppy Play was 9-8

Saturday afternoon the McGill Juniors were outclassed in overtime play by Huntingdon, in Huntingdon.

The game was played in a rink so small that an ordinary shot would hit the roof, and this no doubt, proved the salvation of the Huntingdon players, who were experts on that style of game.

The score stood, at half-time, 6-2 for McGill, and then Huntingdon came back strong with six goals on the latter period.

At full-time the score was 8-8, and in fast overtime play, Huntingdon managed to squeeze one past Clark. For McGill, Williamson and Frank McGill shone, while Clark in goal put up a fine exhibition.

The teams lined up as follows:

McGill	Huntingdon
Clarke	goal
Abbott	point
Williamson	c. point
Graham	rover
McGill	centre
Gibb	l. wing
Hunter	r. wing

VARSITY VICTORIOUS IN FARCICAL FRACAS WITH CORNELL SEVEN

Yankees had Speed but Failed to Tally

The Varsity hockey team defeated Cornell in easy fashion at the Arena on Saturday afternoon, the count at the finish being ten to nothing. The American collegians appeared lighter than the Toronto team, and were unable to handle the disc with the same facility as their opponents and, although they had speed to burn, were never dangerous at any stage of the game. At times the contest developed into a farce, the Toronto defence playing up with the forwards, while Parker, in goal, leaned idly against the nets and conversed with the spectators. Only in the first few minutes of play did the Cornell stalwarts appear dangerous, and after this the game developed into a procession for the Blue Shirts. Basil Frith, who was injured in the Queens game here, got back into the game again and was responsible for three of the ten goals accumulated by Varsity, his zig-zag rushes apparently dazzling the yankee defence who seemed unable to cope with the speedy Toronto captain.

It took six minutes to negotiate the first tally, Aird smashing one in on a brilliant rush and two minutes later Webster circled the nets and beat Dian, the Cornell custodian with a well-placed drive to the corner of the net.

By half-time the Blue Shirts had collected five goals, and the second period was merely a repetition of the first with Cornell continually on the defensive. Aird and Frith starred for Varsity, while Dian who had a lot to do, was always in the limelight for Cornell. The teams were:

Cornell	Varsity
Dean	goal
Clark	point
Smith	cover
Scherr	rover
Meins	centre
Day	r. wing
More	l. wing
	Aird
	Referee—Jack Marshall.

SECOND BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEAT FAST OTTAWA QUINTETTE

Capital City Senior Basketball-ers Only of Intermediate Calibre

The McGill Intermediate Basketball Team defeated the five representing the Ottawa Y.M.C.A. in the latter City on Saturday, the final score being 39-30. The game was fast and close from start to finish the teams being evenly matched. McGill took the lead from the start and were never headed, although at times the Ottawa aggregation looked dangerous enough to come through with a winning rally. McTavish, the fast McGill forward, played stellar ball from beginning to end of the piece, while McCann who holds down a position on the Ottawa football team, was always in the limelight for the Capital City outfit.

Owing to the illness of Capt. Hovey of the McGill team, Baldwin filled in at centre, and put up a good exhibition. The line ups were:

THE BOUTS

115 lbs Wrestling.
Ewart (McGill) beat Ross (Varsity). The build of the two men were of very different types, Ross being short and thick-set, Ewart tall and thin, but quick as a flash. Right from the beginning, Ewart quite non-plussed his opponent, the latter being unable to do anything with the youngster. All Ewart's work showed great skill, and he showed a better knowledge of the game than one would have thought he would have possessed for the time he has been at it. He followed up quickly, and frequently had Ross in very precarious positions. No falls being taken the bout went the full fifteen minutes, Ewart taking the decision by a good margin.

125 lbs Boxing.
Forbes, McGill, beat Irwin, Queens. Right from the beginning of the bout the McGill boy pressed matters, and drove his man around the ring; the latter appeared somewhat dazed by the speed of his opponent, but put in a good left, which slowed things down a bit. The first round ended slightly in Forbes's favor. The Varsity man made better use of his advantage of reach in the second round, but Forbes landed a beautiful right-handed upper cut that had a very telling effect. The second round was Forbes's. The third was somewhat wild on the part of both men, Forbes trying several times to land a very extravagant right swing. This round was about even, and Forbes gained the decision.

125 lbs Wrestling.
Garvock, Queens, beat Audette, McGill. This bout was the finest exhibition of wrestling in the entire meet. Garvock, three times Intercollegiate champion, was up against a man whom he described last year as being the best man he had ever wrestled, and certainly Audette did give him a run for his money. The men opened cautiously, feeling for an opening. Garvock brought Audette down with a head lock, and swinging to the side turned Audette with what was nearly a full Nelson. Audette bridged perfectly, and, keeping his shoulders off the man in this very trying position for a full minute, gradually worked free amid tremendous applause. Throughout the bout Garvock attacked hard, Audette showing wonderful work in bridging, spinning and rolling, frequently extricating himself from seemingly impossible positions. The bout went the full limit, no falls being taken, Garvock getting the decision for superior aggressiveness.

Garvock showed himself to be a wonderful wrestler, having the strength of a welterweight, but still able to make the 135 lbs class. On his shoulders lay much of the responsibility for making the arrangements for the assault-at-arms, and he certainly acquitted himself as well in the executive work as on the mat.

135 lbs Boxing.
Browne, Queens, beat Mais, McGill. The men opened cautiously, and Browne landed in light left to the head. Mais rushed in and landed with left and right, and followed up well. Browne had a decided advantage in reach and made good use of a straight left. The round ended with honors divided equally.

The second round was hard and fast, Mais keeping in to his man as much as possible, and using a left hook to good effect. At the end of

Y. M. C. A. Notes

A feature of the meeting of the McGill Students' Volunteer Band on Tuesday evening was an account of some of the McGill men who have gone out as missionaries to the foreign field since the organization of this Band, twenty-three years ago.

The volunteer Band was organized at McGill in 1890, and reorganized in 1896 with pretty much the same constitution that it now has. Its object then as now, was primarily to interest students in foreign missions with a view of enlisting them in foreign work.

Since eighteen-ninety, forty-five of its members have gone out to the foreign fields. These men are now scattered to the very ends of the earth—to India, China, Japan, Africa, South America, Labrador, etc. Three members have died at their posts during these years, and one while on furlough. The rest are still in the harness.

The first name on the records is that of Murdock Mackenzie, Theology eighty-nine, who revisited McGill last week. P. C. Leslie, Medicine eighty-nine, who was President and General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., is now in Honan, China. J. R. Cox, Medicine '01 is practicing in a Chinese city of unpronounceable name. C. S. Paterson, Science '01, a former Y.M.C.A. President, is in India. A. H. Grace, Arts '98, one of the most famous athletes who ever entered McGill, went out to India and died a few years ago while on furlough. Chauncey Adams, Theol. '02, was McGill's first representative in the Ceylon mission work, of which Murray Brooks is now in charge. The list includes also such men as Jos. Mowatt, Arts '01, a footballer of repute, who starred on a Canadian intermediate championship team, W. J. Scott, Arts '01, a famous track man, and A. W. Lochead, of the same class, who held the Harrier record for several years, all of whom are now in Honan. Temple Piers, renowned for his work on the Y.M.C.A. social committee, is now in Brazil. T. Auld, Arts '07, Med. '09, a former president of the Medical Society, is now in Hanan, as is J. B. Hattie, Science, '10, a Wicksteed medallist. The last member of the Band to leave for the foreign field was R. S. Tippet, who sailed for China a couple of weeks ago.

this round there was nothing between the pair. Mais mixed it up well in the opening of the third round, but was unable to keep the pace up. Both men were exhausted, but Browne kept his long left going into Mais' face, and the round was his, gaining the decision.

135 lbs Wrestling.
Davies, McGill, beat Kohl, Varsity. The crowd were obviously looking for something interesting in this bout and they got it.

Davies started in with a rush, and carried the fight to his man all through, proving much too strong for Kohl. Several times he picked the latter right off the mat and landed him heavily, Kohl escaping from many tight places by sheer grit. Half way through the second round the McGill boy took a fall after a prolonged struggle by Kohl. Throughout the third round, Davies kept on the attack, and, at the sound of the going for time, had his man almost down.

145 lbs Wrestling.
Foster Beat Haynes. Both men took the bout very seriously. For the first six minutes Hanes surprised Foster by his remarkable skill, compelling the latter to play a wary game throughout the two first rounds. The last three minutes was a corker for action, and it almost looked as though Varsity got the better of it. Foster gained the decision.

145 lbs Boxing.
Montgomery (McGill) beat Scott (Queens)

The men sparred up to one another and Scott tried a left hand; Montgomery ducked and landed a very heavy right to the body. The men clinched and broke. Scott feinted with the left and landed a right swing to the jaw; the McGill man countered with left and right; Scott wavered and fell, and was counted out. After a minute's rest the Queen's boy returned game, and looked as though he was as fit as ever. However, the first hard blow Mont landed put Scott out, and he was carried to his corner.

158 lbs Wrestling.
Card, Varsity, beat Tucker, McGill. At the time of weighing-in Tucker registered 8 pounds less than Card, and by the time they met, the latter must have had a good 10 pounds over the McGill boy.

Both men had the same method of action, being hustlers of the first order. Card was able to gain the upper position, and held it, but was unable to solve the problem of Tucker's defence, trying, by both science and strength, to break it down. For the last three minutes Tucker went in with a rush, and, swinging into a chancery, brought Card down on the edge of the mat with a resounding thump. Both men went off the mat, and were brought back to centre.

There being no falls, the bout went the full fifteen minutes. Card received the decision.

158 lbs Boxing.

Levy, Varsity, beat Robb, Queens. Levy went in with both hands and caught his man's defence low, bringing him down. Robb was obviously still suffering from his bout with Spencer the night before, and when he came back was only put out again by Levy, who followed up very closely.

The referee justly stopped the bout, thereby saving a good man from unnecessary punishment. Some of the Queens supporters showed their ignorance by hissing the decision and received a just rebuke from the referee.

HEAVYWEIGHT WRESTLING.
McKenzie, Queens, beat McLean, McGill.

Owing to the shortness of time left for the programme to be finished the rounds were reduced to two of four minutes and one of two.

McLean had an advantage of fifteen pounds in weight over his opponent, but was against a very fast and aggressive man. The Queens man caught McLean by a leg hold and further arm and brought the latter to the mat where he kept his position for the rest of the round. In both the other two rounds Mackenzie was attacking most of the time and gained the decision. McLean is only a new man and will make a good man if he will use his weight and strength and be more aggressive.
